Epiphany: A God who loves Hide and Seek

We are familiar with children playing a game of “hide and seek”. In a sense, it captures something of the history of God’s self-revelation to humanity. It was a God who was “hiding” and we were left frantically “seeking” the divine presence of God in our lives and in our world. For many of us, we sense that God is still hiding. Yet, today we are celebrating the Epiphany — the revelation or manifestation of Jesus as the Son of God who is always seeking us out instead. Maybe we are the ones who are still hiding!

Why am I hiding from God or even running away from God? Or putting it more personally, how is it that I don’t feel the presence of Jesus in my life? Sometimes we feel that God seems absent and silent — that God is still hidden from our sight. Indeed, these moments when dark clouds gather suddenly when we are gripped by fear, by foreboding of an impending storm coming from the horizon, can be moments of grace. These moments when we lose someone close to us — the death of a father, a mother, a brother, a sister, a husband, a wife or a child, or a close friend – can turn our lives upside down. Indeed, these moments of pain, grief, loss, separation and anguish are reminders of our mortality, and the incomprehensibility of suffering and being human.

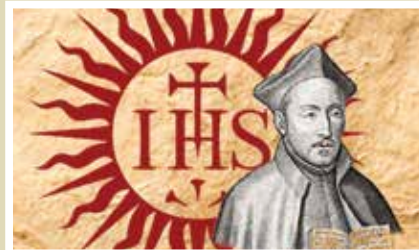

For others, God seems hidden because of disappointments, rejections, failures in life. When things don’t work out the way I want it to be — when I feel unfairly treated; when I feel angry because of a loss of respect, love and dignity. In such times, I hide from God and others because of shame, anger and pain.

Yet, these situations are also for us profound experiences of the divine presence of God coming very near to us to comfort, console and embrace us when words fail us. We feel drawn to reflect on the meaning of suffering in our lives. We are reminded that we are prone to errors and misjudgments. We know that we have to take time out to pray and remember and reflect on the birth of Jesus who took on himself identify himself with us and give us hope because

all of human condition and nature. He chose to identify himself with us and give us hope because he himself has been the wounded healer. He was the victim and the sacrifice- the touchstone of salvation, the friend who laid down his life for my sake. His love gives me strength to forgive, to be merciful and to seek and find God and life again.

So as I begin my first week of taking office as the Parish Priest of St Ignatius, I am aware of the hidden graces of God to encourage and empower me. I am so grateful to so many of you who have conveyed your prayers, support and friendship to me. I know that Jesus will continue to unveil each day and to reveal his will, grace and plan at work in my life, and in all of you who are part of this family of God in this parish.

Finally, I hope that we too may become more aware of the call to be more “loving, inclusive, discerning and apostolic” (LIDA) in our lives, our family, and our ministries. A question to reflect, share and discuss is: “How can each of us do more of LIDA and put it into practice?” In doing so, may you find God who is often more present than absent in your life. Perhaps, I am the one who is still hiding and waiting for God to find me! Don’t hide too long — it can be lonely in the dark. Come out and walk in the light of God’s revelation of love and life. And rejoice that God has found you no matter who you are, what you have and do and where you are. Make yourself at home in St Ignatius parish and with Jesus who is at home with you!

"My kids and I thoroughly enjoyed the Advent Wreath Making as a family and it has become a family tradition we all look forward too. It also helps us bond with the greater family of parishioners. The significance of the 4 candles as we light them up each week while counting down to Christmas is very meaningful. We love the smell of fresh pine in the home, too!" Gerald Koh

"It really set start the Christmas mood. Better than any mall decor or Orchard Road lights." Amy Oeij

"I love that the Advent Wreath activity brings family and friends together. The wreath is the focal point for the family's creativity and becomes the proud centrepiece when brought home. As we remind our children of its significance, it also renews our faith as we reflect on our Lord." Kim & Vivian

A Family Circle

WELCOMING MINISTRY OF ST IGNATIUS

The Advent Wreath Making event gathered the parish family in a special way during the period of Advent prayer and pondering. Organized by the Welcoming Ministry of St Ignatius on the first weekend of Advent, all came together to celebrate the beginning of a new Liturgical year with fun, feasting and fellowship.

Fun

Cheers and laughter as presents were piled high, candy canes counted and guessed, Bethlehem on a map hunted for blindfolded, Christmas Scrabble played, and icing Christmas Tree and Star shaped cookies. Hymns and music from the 8.15am family choir wafted through the Sacred Heart Hall.

Feasting

The tea potluck produced freshly baked cakes and cookies, spiced with the aroma of butter and sugary icing.

Fellowship

Blessings abounded as Fr Matthew Tan prayed over us to start off our work amidst the fresh scent of fir. At the closing, Fr Jerome Leon enfolded us in the love of God with His Word. Blessing each individual wreath lovingly, we truly felt ready to commit to the presence of God in the waiting.

We were ready to celebrate our oneness, together in our emptiness as we waited for the Son of God be born in us again, to reach out to others, to share and care, forgive and relive, knowing that Christ was coming to be with us.

Celebrating with Friends

TEXT: HANYEN TEN PHOTOS: PETER KAY

Every year, members of Society of St Vincent De Paul (SSVP) host a year-end party for their Friends In Need (FINs) On 3 December, members and about 130 FINs, gathered for an evening of feasting, fun and bonding to spread holiday cheer.

Partygoers dressing up as reindeer using only balloons and other balloon games led to much laughter. Many also stepped up to sing their favourite karaoke songs. Dinner ended with the crowd favourite Bingo, where everyone went home a winner. A truly memorable event for both members and beneficiaries.

This party for FINs is just one of the many projects that the SSVP conference in Church of St Ignatius undertakes. Other initiatives include the Milk and Diapers Project for babies of low-income families, and the Kids' Project, which conducts activities for a children's home. To find out more, please email us at ssvp.stignatius@gmail.com.

A Christmas Workshop

TEXT: ANNABELLE LEONG

In the middle of 2017, members of St Ignatius D'Fellowship Program were seen in Sacred Heart Hall busily working together on creative craft. Fr Matthew was also spotted among them. This would soon turn out to be an unexpected adventure.

It was soon revealed that they were producing Christmas decorations to raise funds for the Social Mission Fund. Their regular craft activities had revealed that they had so much talent it would only be natural to start a Workshop. What better name than to call it a Santa's Workshop!

This inspiration sparked by the volunteers needed a lot of planning and hard work. They gamely pushed the idea to make it a reality. So while members and volunteers continued to meet regularly to engage in fellowship, praying, singing, exercising and playing games, they also worked extra hours to meet their production target. The months to December flew by. Santa's workshop became a hive of activity with members, caregivers and volunteers joining forces to make, pack and grade the Christmas Decorations.

The sale took place on the first Sunday of Advent at the Place of Gathering. It was a resounding success judging by the response from parishioners who were enchanted by the colorful handmade Christmas items. By noon, all items were sold with a total of $2,100 collected for the Social Mission Fund, thanks to the generous support of all.

Milk and Diapers

TEXT: MAGDALENE TEO-TAN

Since the SSVP Milk and Diaper programme started three years ago, we have grown and the programme is currently supporting 110 babies and toddlers. Volunteers deliver the milk and diapers once a month directly to the family of the children and bond with them by playing and befriending their families.

On 9 and 10 December, on the 2nd Sunday of Advent, SSVP Milk and Diaper team held its second Advent outreach at the Place of Gathering. The purpose was threefold: to inform and update parishioners on the programme, to give parishioners an opportunity to participate and donate to the fund to purchase milk and diapers for children (below the age of 3) from low-income families in Singapore.

About 29 parishioners also signed up as volunteers to deliver milk and diapers. A briefing and training for new volunteers is being planned at the end of January.

Over the weekend, the outreach raised $5,707. SSVP would like to thank parishioners who have donated to the Milk and Diaper fund. Interested parishioners who wish to know more, please contact Anthony Cheong at ssvpmilkanddiapers@gmail.com

Gathering of Friends

TEXT: NCC ZONE A DISTRICT 2 TEAM

There was feasting, games, and joy and laughter at the NCC A2's Advent Party a week before Christmas, where members and their families gathered at a member's home to celebrate the coming of the Child Jesus.

Members showed off their cooking and baking skills - sharing sumptuous dishes and desserts while bonding and catching up with each other. Most remarkable of all, we also welcomed new members.

Games of Pictionary and Charades based on carols and Bible passages drew great laughter. It was hilarious watching Elvis Presley and Rap renditions of Christmas Carols.

NCC A2 has some two dozen active members who attend the monthly gatherings and share their faith experiences in a chat group. Over the past three years programmes have included study of the Bible - the Great Bible Adventure, the Psalms, and currently the Book of James. Lenten observances such as Stations of the Cross and Marian devotions are organised by different teams of members.

It has become an A2 custom that when members travel on pilgrimages or visit a foreign church, they pray for all in A2 and when possible, a candle is lit at Our Lady's Altar. When needs arise, Intercessory prayers are offered collectively for members and friends.

Celebration for All

TEXT: GWINNIE LEE PHOTOS: PETER KAY

It was a joyful day for elderly and homebound parishioners, and their caregivers and families as they were brought into the parish family to celebrate a special Christmas Mass and Party, organised by PaCES on Thursday 28 December.

Mass celebrated by Fr Matthew, solemnly brought home the true meaning of Christmas – the gift of Jesus. We grew to understand that Jesus is the real Christmas gift from a loving God and the reason we should give our time and love to others.

After Mass, guests enjoyed a buffet spread including home baked cakes and desserts prepared by volunteers. Carol singing in front of the beautiful Nativity scene, led by guitarist Timothy, his family and friends brought laughter, joy and a happy atmosphere. In the spirit of giving and sharing, a young Santa Claus made his appearance giving out presents to the elderly.

Many of the elderly parishioners were delighted to see familiar faces and friends, with Fr Colin joining the celebration.

Special thanks must be made to the choir, altar boys, volunteers and all who have helped in one way or another.

A big Thank You to our cast

True Meaning of Christmas

TEXT: CHANTAL WONG AND DOROTHY KAY PHOTOS: PETER KAY

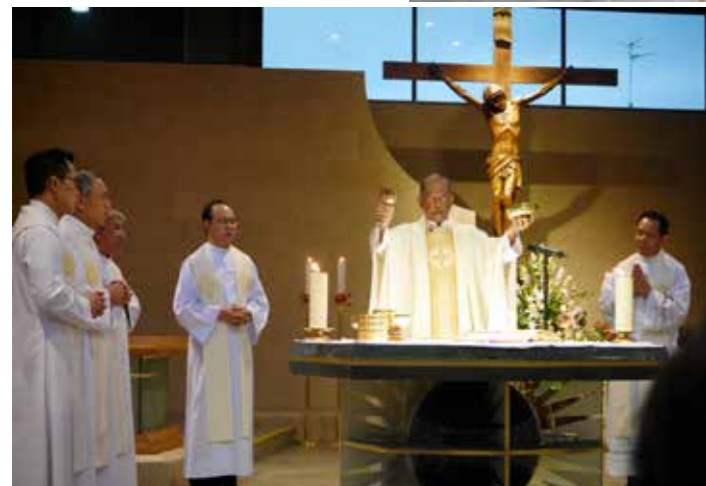

In the tradition of St Ignatius, the children of the parish were invited to participate in the annual Christmas Eve Pageant. With many families travelling for the holidays, we were happy to have children from the International schools' catechism program, CCD, together with some from our local schools, come together after two short rehearsals to create a Nativity play to recall the true meaning of Christmas.

The young cast was supported by the 8.15am Family Choir, CCD volunteers, parents, singing Mary's Boy Child, Away in the Manger, The First Noel, Angels We Have Heard on High and Joy to the World. Kids at the Christmas Eve Family Mass were invited to come forward and sit around the altar. Together with the congregation, they participated in the carolling, shouting aloud each time flash cards were held up – 'NO ROOM!, GOD with US! and HAPPY BIRTHDAY JESUS!'

To the tune of Little Drummer Boy, the children processed out as Fr Matthew Tan blessed the Christmas Crib and Baby Jesus was placed in the manger. What a beautiful way of celebrating the real meaning of Christmas – the Birthday of Jesus.

A New Path

On the seventh day, 31 December, within the Octave of the Nativity of Our Lord, the Church honoured the Feast of The Holy Family of Jesus, Mary and Joseph. This Sunday Eucharistic celebration also marked a priestly milestone for Fr Leslie Raj SJ as he celebrated the 6pm Mass. It would be his last as Parish Priest of the Catholic Church of St Ignatius. On behalf all parishioners, the Hospitality Ministry expresses our gratitude to Fr Leslie.

Dear Fr Les,
We remember all that you have done and achieved since you were first made Parish priest, including the building of this church. The Hospitality ministry that you started when we moved from the old church to the new, just one of the many initiatives you put in place, you gave us the name of Greeters and a more gracious existence. But you did much more than this and we know it. Despite your illness and your broken ankle, you helmed the Parish a second time and showed us what we can do against all odds. Your compassion for the elderly and the sick is something we can all learn from. You did not just preach about Christ the suffering servant, you were the suffering servant. You walked the walk.

With hearts filled with gratitude, we the Parishioners of St Ignatius thank God for the gift of you. Pray for us, Fr Les, as we continue to hold you in our prayers.

From your friends and your Parish Family, this is our prayer for you

Irish Blessing

*May the road rise to meet you,
May the wind always be at your back,
May the sun shine warm upon your face,
And rains fall soft upon your fields.
And until we meet again,
May God hold you in the palm of His hand.*

Good Mates

The year 2017 marked a new chapter for me in many ways. Not only did I begin my first year in secondary school, but I spent the year away from Singapore as a boarder at Marist College Brisbane. It is renowned for its outreach programmes, a popular one being the MATES programme. The acronym MATES, stands for "Marists Are Taking Everyone Seriously". Through its various outreach activities, MATES provides an avenue to build solidarity with people on the margins of society.

Due to its popularity, I only received a chance to go on a MATES visit in term 4, despite having signed up multiple times as early as term 2. During a MATES visit, a group of around four boys, together with a Religious Education teacher, will journey to the selected destination and spend roughly an hour there.

I was eagerly awaiting and excited to go on my first visit after hearing of the many experiences of my friends who had participated in MATES. Our location was Paddington Respite Centre, which is a day-care centre for the elderly, where they spend their day participating in various activities. Before we began our journey to Paddington, our teacher stressed that the reason we were embarking on the visit was not because we felt sorry for the elderly, but rather, to try and get to know and bring joy to them by befriending them - that is, by becoming their "mate". We got to interact with the elderly by playing games together. One game, in particular, Celebrity Heads, involved active group participation from all the elderly at the day centre. The laughter and the fun created a vibrant atmosphere, making the place feel very warm and friendly. Before we knew it, the hour had flown by.

I thoroughly enjoyed the MATES activity, and cannot wait to do a different activity next year. However, I felt that it was a pity that one can only participate in MATES once a year. Hence, my teacher told me that since I had enjoyed MATES tremendously, I should sign up for the St. Vincent de Paul group, which have frequent activities to raise money to support the Royal Children's Hospital Brisbane, and Marist Solidarity, which aims to provide education for the less fortunate children in places like Cambodia, Samoa and East Timor. Fundraising activities include weekly Thursday morning barbeques, selling homemade treats, raffle tickets, etc, at rugby games, and helping out with the Lenten and Christmas donation drives.

The MATES visit coincided with the beginning of advent. The anticipation I felt before going on the visit and the joy I received from making friends with the elderly brought to life for me the waiting and preparation which marks this season of the Church calendar, leading up to the birth of Christ. There were also preparations for exams looming around the corner, and the sense of longing to return home for Christmas to spend time with my family during the holidays. This year, celebrating Christmas has an added meaning for me, as I wait to see Jesus, who came to earth as a child, to live his life in solidarity with us, by being our friend, our "mate".
